but this journey like the voyage across the ocean is somewhat of faith & patience – & my health & spirits have both been a little affected – the latter a good deal. It is my belief however that the Lord in his infinite condescension will give me both my natural & my spiritual life for a prey – I am brought low before him – but humbly believe reverently & thankfully to bless his holy & righteous name.

I have suffered much this morning from yielding to a doubtful mind. O may the Lord graciously preserve me from such a condition. I am well assured that it is not for the honour of the Truth. Yesterday was a pretty good day for me – I had a good meeting at the Blue Sulphur Springs – a fine romantic drive; & a pretty good meeting here in the evening – I took great pains to set invite the people; but we had not a general attendance; & now I am uncertain. I have thrown myself into a difficulty which I had not intended – but it cannot be helped. May the Lord in his infinite condescension, yet graciously provide for me!

The day which began with the above complaints, ended pretty well – & I believe turned out rightly – we held a meeting that evening at the Sweet Springs that evening which was satisfactory – but the look of the slave, all dad slaves & he was trying to us. A fine journey the next day brought us to Lancaster where I attended a Presbyterian meeting on 1st day morn & addressed the people at the close of the minister's service. At good on First day morning I held a public meeting in the same house which was a time of the remarkable putting forth of divine power, after much suffering & conflict of mind. Before meeting I had visited a criminal left for execution for stabbing – an awful scene which I have since had repeated at the Prison at Pittsburgh ~~Court House – & had specimens of transatlantic~~ Sunday's McCardie from Ohio[2] crime – stabbing seems no uncommon thing. I was extremely relieved by this meeting, & we afterwards pursued our onward journey & inward ease, upwards of 20 miles towards Danville – which we found to be 30 miles at least further off than we expected. Lewis lodging (Williams') a comfortable meeting there at our journey in the evening – Second day – Straight Liberty, where after breakfast at the Hotel I held a good meeting, thence New London a small village – & so on to awaken Lewis's where we had a comfortable evening. Third day, to Pittsburgh Court house (the town of Competition) Here we held an excellent meeting in the Court House in the 2d
