acknowledged to be fully applicable, flowed freely — & some little matters of difficulty were afterwards I hope in some degree settled. I left every to Boston & by rail road on Wed day morg to Worcester — full little meetings that day at Leicester in the morning & at Worcester Evening. Found it a beautiful place. Visited the admirable State Lunatic asylum — I hope a good day. We started from Extra at 4 o'clock yesterday morning — dined at Hartford — & the Connecticut R. & arrived here in a dark storm at 9 o'cl. At this place is beautiful especially from its abundant elm avenues. I have been calling on the Pres.t of Yale College, Dr Day — & am to meet the young men at 8 o'cl this evg — also a public meeting in the office of God in the Methodist Church. Thus I humbly trust the Lord is still opening my way to service. & I do most heartily desire to lie low in & under his holy hands — ~~[illegible]~~ not seeking great things for myself. Some little conflict of mind, it has been experienced this morning in from the cool conduct of the Pres.t &c. — and naughty nature did not quite like the offended cup of humiliation — but I do most heartily desire to be preserved from this self-seeking — to be willing to be the despised quaker. ΝΕΚΡΩΣΙΝ ΑΔΑΦΑ ΠΟΟΡΩΝ ΚΑΙ ΣΤΑΥΤΟΝ ΠΕΡΙΦΡΟΝΑ ΕΩΣ ΑΕΤΙ. Lord help me to humble myself in the dust before thee who art my strength & my hope! I am ashamed of the complacency & pride of my own heart — & truly can only throw myself on the Saviour whose most precious blood ~~[illegible]~~ cleanseth from all sin. At Lynn on 4th day I met a delightful tide of letters with good news from Earlham up to June 18. May I be enough thankful for all the Lord's benefits!

Newbury Port 7th day Eve June 18 8 1838

I arrived here just now with H. Hinsdale & Jos Dennis with wm — Jos Rabbit. Abijah Alley Chase accompd us from Lynn & Salem with a view of holding a public meeting here this Evg but the notice seems to be very inadequate — & the place looks very dull — once a town of brisk commerce (at the mouth of the Merrimac) now going down. My mind is somewhat cast down — but I feel quiet & can only take matters as they come. I have spent an important 6 days since I wrote, & have seen, done, & enjoyed much. The meetings at Newhaven last first day, especially the concluding one which was with the young men of the College were very favored. Love seemed to flow afterwards.
