at the earnest request of Mr Curtis Bostock were furnished & attended by Chief Justice Webster & others - but exceedingly small. The ministry however flowed in a quiet, little a deep stream, as it did afterwards in a larger meeting at Hallowell Village - we lodged at the Hotel, Augusta, & having parted from our dear Sal. Dennis (& our loved ones) we started at 4½ the morning for this place. I had a poor night, but was most graciously permitted to feel unalloyed satisfaction in the retro-spect of the 3 months & upwards spent in New England - a highly interesting time marked by many conflicts of mind. But the Lord has been with me in them all. An equal degree of tranquillity appeared to arise in looking forward to Canada - with the language "Come over & help us." It is to me like the second edition of going forth into a new world - but a precious degree of reverent confidence has been permitted that the Lord will care for me & mine.
Blessed be his holy name for ever more!

Quebec 9 mo 29. 1838.
Seventh day night - H & I had expected to be in the steam boat for Montreal to night - but are disappointed - & whether the delay will prevent our attending Tamlam Iron Works seems doubtful. I have been a good deal tried lyst, as I had very much depended on our departure in my own mind. O that I was less nervous & fearful & more cheerful & trustful, in exigency drin trial of patience!
The week since I last wrote has been a remarkable one & in some respects, trying - but on the whole, very interesting. The journey from Anson to this place ~~in one~~ was one which I shall not soon forget - some difficulties in it - but all well surmounted by time & pa-tience. 2d day from Anson to the forks - where we held a little meeting. 3d day from Forks to the Hylton's near the Canada line - there we were sadly disappointed by the failure of the regular mail conveyance which had brought us so far - but a one horse waggon conveyed us a tedious days journey of 28 miles to Caldwells & thence a two horse waggon (a great price) on 5th day ~~to Point Levi~~ - 66 miles - to Point Levi opposite to Quebec. We crossed the noble St. Lawrence before breakfast on 6th day - & have since passed a two days of no small interest - & yet of some
