6th day Mr. Neely at Lunch - large - very exercising time; but ending ~~[illegible]~~ well. Dined with Dr Tabor ~~[illegible]~~ at the opening of a Academy Lyra & ~~[illegible]~~ Battey - 7th day - big drive to Burlington. The foul weather prevented our taking the Steamboat across the lake for Perry; & after a somewhat confusing time to my own mind, we passed a good ~~day~~ Sabbath day at Burlington. Our little ~~meeting~~ company of Friends sat down together in the morning - a public meeting at Falls in the afternoon & tea pleasantly with Pres.t Wheaton of the College. Good & large public meeting in the evg. at the Methodist House.

In the night we were disturbed by an awful alarm of fire - the stables & barn of the Hotel where we lodged being in flames - we made our escape, bag & baggage, & crossed the Hotel into opposite side of the Square. & having parted from our beloved friend Moses Beede have travelled about 50 miles in a hired carriage with Henry Miles & Anderson Kenney for our guides - we are on our way to Farmington, Lower C. where a meeting is appointed for tomorrow

St. John's 10mo 11. 1838.

Our visit to Farmington yesterday was remarkably favoured & satisfactory & seemed to afford ample repayment for the exertion of getting there. We were cordially received by the very interesting community of Friends - the meeting was largely attended by them & their neighbours & was a time of much solemnity - "His name shall be called the Prince of Peace". After the meeting, Henry Miles introduced the subject of an address to Lord Durham, which I seconded, & it was very cordially agreed to & generally signed. There seemed to be a feeling of much fear connected with it - the object of the address being to induce him to be cautious in his fort - for peace' sake. In the aft. I held another meeting ~~in the aft.~~ with Friends, in which I had to encourage them warmly in the faithful maintenance of their testimonies & religious standing - which may very probably be put to the proof.

We lodged at Aaron Bull's very peacefully. And after a good night, ~~many~~ I sat down Sabbath morn with many friends in order to discuss the difficulties to which they are exposed, from the ~~state~~ disturbed state of
