nearly 3 months has been bestowed upon me. Thus thus I find myself better this morning both in mind & body, than I have been for a long time. We have some service in prospect for to day in private families & a meeting appointed for to morrow morning previous to our going forward to Westbury.

Third day morning 3mo 12

After a powerful night, I am pretty well in health. All my Thursday duties & exercises seem now to be cleared off, except the approaching meeting. May I be graciously helped through the last solemn service! my mind was very quiet in the night. & is quiet this morning. Some little light seems to shine on services & duties yet to come - such as may, after all, involve a distant travel. Lord be pleased to guide, help, & preserve in body & soul! Lord, may it please thee to keep the two nations at peace - that thy servants & children may not be tried with more than they are able to bear.

Westbury Third day Eve

The meeting this morning was a time of eminent favour in which the grand fundamental principles of Christianity were fully declared, under a fresh & gracious outpouring of the Lord's anointing. We now find peace in coming once more to our friend Mary Post's with a view to the families as mentioned to their last mo. meeting. I cannot be too thankful for the good measure of health & the calmness of mind which are my portion on returning to this place.

Fourth day Eve

The meeting this morning was rather closely exercising to me - but I believe a good time & my view of public meetings in two of the Hicksite houses was fully concurred with to my relief. The family visit commenced this evening with the two families of Rushmere at Wheatley - quite to our satisfaction. It will be a great favour if health is permitted to keep pace & rather move than keep pace with service - & I have a humble trust that it will be so - If so, it is all of mercy.

Seventh day 3/16.

We have been graciously favoured to get along comfortably with our work - through on my part through much fear & weakness, & some close trial of faith - All the families well got thro - & a remarkable meeting with a free company of Hicksites & others at Jerusalem yesterday: some of them hard & restless; but I trust truth was over all.
