the faithless telegram was permitted to land in safety. H H & I spent a dreary evening at Hamilton not being able to get any conveyance to take us forward. After a poorly night, we rose early took stage for Brantford - there an extra - & arrived at Wm. Barker's & Sarah Barker's one right agreeable home here - early in the eve. Brantford. Fifth day 8 mo 22d. We have I believe passed a good time at Norwich, though we far from being devoid of suffering & conflict to myself, chiefly in consequence of very poorly feeling on Patience's st. Two large meetings on First day - in which I had to proclaim the Christ & his peaceable reign - versus all tumults &

factions - I afterwards found that many of the rebels were present. I also prayed for the Queen. Greatly overdone at night. Sec. & third day spent in quiet & satisfactory family visiting - Many precious families of friends. 4th day another large meeting - & very plain address afterwards to Friends alone, on social practical parts - especially education. more family visits - overdone at night.

After a sweet & solemn time at the Barkers this morning with them & a company of friends we started 3 waggon loads, or our pilgrimage (after a few more family visits & leaving) to Yonge St. 130 miles - & are now stopping at a quiet tavern here for a public meeting in the evg. My mind pretty quiet the rest of a few days quite agreeable. Rest & Mary Stover; the elders of our company. Wm. Smith a simple hearted minister expressed his unity this morning & his hope that I shd. shall return home with my sleeves. Through tender mercy, a little faith seems given me to believe it.

Tavern betw. Toronto & Yonge St. 2d Day 8mo 26/39

Our really our favored this morning, in some good measure, to go on my way rejoicing - trusting in the Lord. The public meeting at Brantford last 5th day was small, but kept off pleasantly. Sixth day journey to Hamilton - fine view & sketch from the mountain - tolerable tolerably comfortable afte at the Exchange Hotel - conversation with a renegade quaker Shipley of a truly wicked spirit - large & satisfactory public meeting at the Friends meeting house. 7th day delightful voyage by good steamer to Toronto - the wind & both easy - sketching &c. Arrived at that large & not very thriving town of Wm. inhabitants - soldiers all about - at noon. North American hotel - arrangements for meeting the next day - delightful access of letters - three from England very favorable - up to 7mo 29th - wonderful - reaching me after travelling 4000 miles on 8mo 24. I cannot be too thankful for these letters, especially for the good acts of my dearest children -

JOURNAL OF J. J. GURNEY 1837 - 1840