Thus we are left without any resource for provisioning but our own Eclipse. I hardly know how to reconcile these matters; although being so sparing here for public service, I have been in no small measure laid low in spirit. I cannot however deny that the encouragement has been somewhat unusually poured forth in on private occasions — & that Isabella & I both find our stay here remarkably useful & refreshing as a matter of health. Much quietness seems to be permitted this morning. There seems scarcely a probability now of our getting to America in time for Phila: Y. M. I must endeavour quietly to leave it. I am as yet the very poorest & weakest, the Lord knoweth; but I do not serve a hard Master. I have been endeavouring to do right — & if I have in any respect been mistaken, I trust my dear Lord & holy Leader will overrule my infirmities for good; & that He will not take His Holy Spirit from me, or cast me away from His Divine Presence. My dreams were sadly disturbed last night — dearest Itt was distinctly before me, as is my common experience when the stomach is some the cause of ill dreams affects me. But I can in a degree of faith commit them both, with mighty,

On Board the Eclipse
First day night 2mo/23. 1840

After the above entry the Whitmores & some other friends sat down with us in our own lodging — notwithstanding past difficulties & we were favored with a precious meeting — Sympathy flowed towards the afflicted. For this renewal of a little meeting of our own at Santa Cruz, I was really thankful; & the Police gave us no further molestation. In the afn we read with the "slaves" of the town — & in the evg spent a most interesting evening at the Romans — Hannah's visit. The awakened & warmhearted of the Santa Cruz Century were generally there — I read Isa. xiv. & a very solemn meeting was held afterwards — "The Doctrine of the Holy Ghost" I was in conclusion much engaged in prayer. It was I believe the crown to our religious labors in the Island, & left me happy & at ease. On second day I completed the passport arrangement respg the Whitmores & our voyage from Jamaica — on which I thought I saw a little light — & in order to this end, went over with Mehlan to Bapin, where we settled the affair with Capt P. Washington & shall go on board with Jud. Solitaire the Sov., with a view of
