

1st. All our meetings for worship and Discipline have been attended, yet too many of our members are deficient in the discharge of this important duty, and particularly in the attendance of those called week day meetings, to some of whom one account has reported the extension of care. Unbecoming behaviour in Meetings mostly avoided, the hour nearly observed. —

2nd. Love appears to be maintained for each other as becomes our Christian profession, Tale bearing and detraction are mostly discouraged, and when differences appear care is extended. —

3rd. Many friends endeavour by example and precept to educate their children, and those under their care in plainness of speech, deportment and apparel to guard them against reading pernicious books, and from the corrupt conversation of the world, — also to encourage their reading the holy scriptures. —

4th. Friends are nearly clear of importing, vending or distilling spirituous liquors, they are mostly clear of the unnecessary use of them, and of frequenting taverns unnecessarily or attending places of diversion, Moderation and temperance generally observed.

5th. Care appears to have been taken to enquire into the necessities of the poor amongst us, and to relieve them — and one account reports attention to the school education of their children. —

6th. Our testimony appears to have been maintained against an hireling ministry, Baths, military services, clandestine trade, prize goods and Lotteries, except some instances of deficiency in regard to military services part of which were under care. —

7th. Friends are generally careful to live within the bounds of their circumstances, to avoid involving themselves in business beyond their ability to manage, to be just in their dealings and punctual in complying with their engagements — where deficiencies have appeared, care appears to have been extended. —

8th. Most friends are careful to support our testimony against Slavery, and to provide in a suitable manner for those under their care who have had their freedom secured and some attention is paid to instruct them in useful learning. —

9th. Offenders appear to have been dealt with nearly answerable to this query. —
