Friends again assembled pursuant to adjournment

The Representatives produced the following Report

To the Yearly Meeting now sitting

The Representatives inform that they have had a further conference since their former Report and upon consideration they unite in the judgment that under all circumstances it will be best to read in the Meeting without reserve all the Epistles and communications which have been submitted to their examination.

Signed by direction & on behalf of the Representatives

By Thomas P. Stabler &

10th Month 28 1828

An Epistle of Correspondence directed to this Yearly Meeting from the Yearly Meeting of London; also Epistles from several of the Yearly Meetings on this Continent were received and read.

The Meeting was introduced into a feeling of deep distress under a view of the dislocated situation of our once peaceful and highly favoured Society widely extended over this continent as now exhibited in the Representations contained in some of these Communications wherein many heavy and grievous accusations are made against a large body of our friends with whom this Meeting has long maintained the relations of brotherly kindness and is in full unity.) The following friends were appointed to prepare answers to the Epistles received from our brethren of Philadelphia, New York and Indiana, to wit Thomas Wetherald, John Livingston John Sewell, Thomas P. Stabler, Jonathan Jessup, Thomas McMillan, Thomas Ellicott, William Stabler, John Marsh, Edward Stabler & Peter Ashew

Then adjourned to 3 o'clock this afternoon

According to adjournment friends again met.

The Committee to whom at a former sitting was referred the appeal of Evan Barry, produced the following report which was approved and the Clerk was directed to forward to Baltimore Quarterly Meeting a copy thereof and of this minute.

To the Yearly Meeting now sitting.

The Committee on the appeal of Evan Barry having heard the allegations of the appellant also examined the minutes & proceedings of the monthly and Quarterly Meetings in the case are united in the opinion, that the judgment of the Quarterly Meeting be confirmed which we submit to the Meeting.
