

Our minds have been solemnized by hearing in our reports, of the removal from among us, by death, of an unusually large number of aged Elders in the Church; and an earnest desire had arisen, that we may be renewedly concerned, to walk by the same rule, and mind the same thing which has been the comfort and support of them, and of the righteous, in all ages of the world."

The Committee appointed at a former sitting on the subject brought up from Fairfax Quarterly Meeting, produced the following report, which was read and adopted, viz: "The Committee appointed at a former sitting on the subject brought up from Fairfax Quarterly Meeting Report, that they have met, and given to the subject committed to them, that solid, and deliberate consideration, which its importance seemed to them to demand; and they are united in the judgment, that way does not open for any action on the subject by the Yearly Meeting."

The Committee appointed at a former sitting, to unite with a Committee of Human Friends on the subject of Education, produced the following report, which was read and united with, and the same Committee was continued, and requested to bring forward, to a future sitting, the names of Suitable Friends to carry into operation the news and recommendations contained in the report, viz:

"The joint Committee of men and women Friends, to whom was referred the subject of the education of the children of Friends; after deliberate consideration, have agreed to recommend to the Yearly Meeting the appointment of a Committee to propose to a future sitting, the names of Suitable Friends to serve as a joint Committee on Education; which Committee shall apportion among its members the duty of visiting each particular meeting within the bounds of this Yearly Meeting, to ascertain the number of children within their limits of suitable age to go to school, and whether opportunity is afforded them of acquiring the common branches of a good English education, and to report to the Committee, their judgment of the amount of aid (if any) such neighborhood may require and the proper mode of rendering it; together with any other information in relation to the subject of education, which they may deem important."

It is further recommended, that the Yearly Meeting raise the sum of four hundred dollars, to be used at the discretion of the joint Committee, in aiding such meetings as cannot furnish to the children within their limits, the necessary amount of education without pecuniary aid. The Committee to report to next Yearly Meeting.
