The following Report from the Standing Committee on Education was received and read, and was satisfactory.

The Committee having closed their labors, as far as was at present opened, they are released viz:
To Baltimore Yearly Meeting.

The Standing Committee on Education Report, that they have had several Meetings since last year, and while they still feel the great importance to our religious body of a School, properly organized and rightly conducted, wherein young persons of both sexes could be qualified for Teachers, and Friends' children, under the guardian care of Society, receive a liberal education connected with the fundamental principles of the religion we profess, and the grounds of those important testimonies for which our ancient worthies suffered, that we believe might be imparted, and would so greatly tend to increase their interest therein, way has yet not appeared to open, to take active measures for the immediate establishment of such an institution.

Since their original appointment the Committee have given their attention and aid to the Improvement of Schools in some neighborhoods; and within the limits of Fairfax Quarter, a Boarding School has been established exclusively for Friends' Children, in which twenty-five of each sex are accommodated.

The property, including the buildings and seventeen acres of land, has been purchased by Members of that Quarterly Meeting for a Boarding School for Friends' Children. One Session of the School has been completed, greatly to the satisfaction of all concerned, and another is at this time in successful operation.

The Committee, therefore in making this, their final Report to the Yearly Meeting, feel a hope that, although one important object, which they had much at heart, has not been attained, their labors have not been in vain, but that seed has been sown which may spring up and bear fruit to the honor of the great Husbandman.

Signed in behalf of the Committee,
Joseph Roman, Lloyd Morris, Rebecca Turner.

Baltimore, 10th month, 29th, 1855.

Then adjourned to 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Thirty-first of the month, and 4th of the week.

Near the time adjourned to, Friends assembled.

The Clerk produced a minute embodying the exercises of the meeting during the consideration of the State of Society, which was read as follows, and was satisfactory, viz:

The evidence afforded in the answers to the Queries, that many of our members continue to neglect the attendance of our religious meetings, particularly those held near the middle of the week, has caused much anxiety and concern upon the present occasion; and Friends were earnestly and affectionately entreated to labor diligently after a right qualification for the faithful performance of this, "our reasonable service."

As we are faithful in this religious engagement, its intimate connection with the fulfilment of the First and great Commandment, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, with all thy heart, with all thy mind, and with all thy strength," will be understood, and the necessity appear manifest that an offering without reserve or blemish is required at our hands; and as we are concerned to lay our foundation here, our ability to perform
