The Standing Committee to disburse the proceeds of the "Fair Hill Fund" for the purposes of education, reported as follows, viz:

1875 The Standing Committee to disburse the income of the "Fair Hill Fund," for the purposes of education, report:

That during the past year we have expended for educational purposes, within the limits of our several Quarterly Meetings, $1313.08. Nine schools have been aided, seven of which were taught by Friends. Four were under the care of Monthly or Preparative Meetings, and all the rest, with one exception, were under the entire control of Friends. In these schools there were 137 pupils in membership with Friends. In addition to this, seven individuals preparing to teach have received special aid, five of whom expect to refund at least a part of the money received. In this way the Committee believes much good may be effected. The sum of $40.00 has been refunded since our last report, which was paid over to the Committee in charge of the Fund.

The sum at our disposal being small, Friends in the different localities have been encouraged to combine with it contributions of their own. Thus much has been accomplished in the way of opening and maintaining schools that could not have been done by the aid of the Fund alone.
