24 The Committee to visit our Subordinate Meetings etc, made the following report, which was read:

To the Yearly Meeting now sitting:

The Committee which has been continued by this Meeting from year to year to visit our subordinate Meetings, and encourage Friends to greater faithfulness in their religious duties, reports that its members have not been unmindful of the concern of the Yearly Meeting which gave rise to their appointment, nor of the responsibilities resting upon them in the duties assigned.

According to the ability afforded us our efforts have been extended in various ways where opportunity seemed to open for deepening thought, and arousing a more lively concern for development into the higher life.

As one of the chief agencies at our command, to this end we have counseled our members and others, not to neglect our custom of assembling ourselves together for divine worship.

Several members of the Committee attended two large Meetings for worship, held at Warrington under the care of Menallen Monthly Meeting, much to their satisfaction.

We have also attended several Quarterly, Circular, and other Meetings, of which we are not members, and a number of isolated Friends have been visited.

In common with others similarly interested, we have felt it right to continue our encouragement in the holding of Friends' circles and assemblies for moral and religious improvement, and for the elevation of the social standard amongst our members as well as others.

If the Yearly Meeting deems it advisable to continue this work in charge of a Committee we recommend that the sum of ten dollars be appropriated for its use.

Of the amount placed at the disposal of this Committee
