Answers to queries

First

All our meetings have been duly attended. Friends maintain a serene and orderly deportment therein and are mostly punctual in assembling at the appointed hours.

Second

Friends maintain love towards each other, becoming our relations through state-bearing and disputation and other known differences remain to exist.

Third

Most Friends observe simplicity in their apparel. They advise their children, and others under their to observe the same. They are greatly careful to encourage false modesty, quiet dignity and deportment. They guard them against corrupt conversation, and printing or pernicious literature, and endeavor to supply that which is profitable. They encourage them to read the scriptures of truth.

Fourth

Friends are clear of giving aid in the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquors, as a beverage or in the preparation of food. They avoid such places where liquor is sold, and places of demoralizing tendency.

Most Friends discourage the cultivation and sale of tobacco, and other
