In an Epistle from our brethren of the yearly Meeting held in New York was suggested for the consideration of this Meeting the appointment of Committees by each of the yearly Meetings on this continent, with a view to a more united action on the part of the Society generally, for the civilization and Christian instruction of the Indian Natives in this country and thus meeting feeling united with the proposition, our Standing Committee on Indian Concerns is desired to open a correspondence with the Committee of New York and other Yearly Meetings on the Subject, in order to promote, as may may open for it the object of the proposition. The Clerk was directed to furnish our Committee on Indian Concerns with a copy of this minute.

The Committee appointed on the request of Dunning's Creek Monthly Meeting produced the following report, which was united with, and John Griffith, Thomas Scott, Isaac Brooks, John P. Balderston, David Griscom, Joseph Balance Jr. Eliza Cook, Thomas Worthington and John Scott, were accordingly appointed to visit (in connection with a Committee of Women Friends) the Monthly Meetings of Dunning's Creek and Centre and report of their care herein to the meeting next year. The Clerk was directed to furnish the Committee with a copy of the Report and of this minute.

To the Yearly Meeting now sitting

The joint committee of men and women friends appointed to consider the request of Dunning's Creek Monthly Meeting to be joined to Redstone Quarterly Meeting: Report: that they have had the Subject under their review and are of the judgment that it would not be expedient at the present time to comply with said request: nevertheless we propose that a Committee of men and women friends be appointed by the Yearly Meeting to pay them a visit, likewise to pay a visit to Friends of Bellefonte and as far as way may open take into consideration the propriety of forming a Quarterly Meeting out of the two Monthly Meetings of Dunning's Creek and Centre and report of their care herein to next yearly Meeting. Signed on behalf of the Committee by.

Isaac Brooks

David Griscom

Hannah Hogg

Sorothy Hopkins.
