

Sae and Fox.

There has been about Two hundred garments made for the children the past year, one hundred pairs of socks, stockings and Mittens knit, sixty pounds of wool spun, thirty yards of linsey, and thirty four yards of Blanketing were worn, besides several other pieces, such as Blankets, window Curtains &c, made for house use; seven hundred pounds of butter, a small quantity of cheese, two and a half barrels of soap and two hundred and sixty pounds of Candles have been made the past year.

The girls employ their time, when out of school, mostly in spinning, sewing, weaving, and knitting.

The domestic work for the girls is divided thus:— Some of the girls assist in milking, and attending the Dairy: some assist in washing and ironing; two help in the Kitchen, two in the dining room, and four take charge of the chambers— all change their work every two weeks, so as to give an opportunity of being instructed in the different branches of housekeeping. The teachers and boys have cut about one hundred cords of wood for the use of the family, beside attending the garden and doing other work on the farm. There was thirty acres of winter wheat sown, but it was so much injured by the frost and rust, that only about four hundred dozens were gathered. A small quantity of spring wheat was sown, which yielded well, and from which fifty dozens were gathered. There had been also raised four bushels of Timothy seed, six hundred dozens of Oats, twenty tons of Timothy and Clover hay; there is also fifty five acres of Corn planted, which looks well, one acre planted with Potatoes and Beans, and half an acre in garden stuffs. We have also plowed twenty one acres, and sown the most of it ^{with} wheat, two thousand Rails have been split and mostly used in repairing the fence round the farm.

Our acting Committee, at a meeting held in the Eighth month last, appointed a Committee to make arrangements for building a suitable barn at the Establishment, and to put the work under Contract as soon as practicable.

Women Friends of Baltimore Yearly Meeting have also raised $25.50 for the use of the Committee. These amounts will appear in next year's settlement.

Although no active service has devolved on our Committee the past year, we continue to feel a deep interest in the welfare of the Indians, and the success of the School. Its management, under the acting Committee of Indiana has been very satisfactory to us, and we are much gratified to find that, after appropriating $702. to build a new barn, there will only be a debt against the Establishment—
