

who are in Friends' families, are suitably provided for, and mostly instructed in useful learning.

8th Summary.

Friends appear to be careful to live within the bounds of their circumstances, and to avoid involving themselves in business, beyond their ability to manage. Are clear of defrauding the public revenue. We believe they are mostly just in their dealings, and punctual in complying with their engagements, and where any give just grounds of fear, we trust due care is extended to them.

9th Summary.

Care has not at all times been taken to deal seasonably with offenders, but when done, we trust a spirit of meekness and love has been joined, before judgment was placed upon them.

10th Summary

12th Summary

Friends are mostly careful as far as practicable to place their children for tuition, under the care of suitable teachers in membership with us.

* Our Saviour gave a new commandment to His disciples "that ye love one another" as I have loved you, that ye also love one another". True love would lead us to seek the spiritual welfare of all around us, as our own, we should be constrained often to speak to them of His love, who laid down His life for our sakes, and whose tender mercy and loving kindness, goes out to seek and to save that which was lost. Let that love abound in you which was also in Christ Jesus, that you may be willing to spend and be spent, that sinners may be brought to the knowledge of the truth and be saved.

Parents were tenderly encouraged not to dwell on their own weakness and insufficiency, but in loving faith, to bring the lambs entrusted to their care, to the feet of the Saviour, and there expect to receive from Him strength and wisdom, to lead these little ones, into His fold. There is no teaching so forcible as example, if our children see that we love the Lord, and delight to serve Him, it will have more influence upon them, than the wisest and most earnest teaching without it. In humbly and
