

Our Ministers is not setting them apart as the only ones to speak; but others may be called to speak, and way should be made for these, and our testimony to a free gospel ministry be maintained with power.

We should be willing to enter into a close relationship to the Lord Jesus, and so humble ourselves before Him that we may be able to glorify Him; free from the bondage of self, may we follow Him closely. We are not only to give ourselves to the Lord, but to one another in love. All true service leads to higher service; higher in the Lord's sight. With our faces in the dust before Him, we are we are prepared to go forth - we eat the precious roll and our ministry is baptized by the love of God and desire for souls. One is our Master, even Christ, and all we are brethren. We should demean ourselves properly. Members one of another we should care for the reputation of the Church in all our meetings. That the word which goes out from us should never dishonor our Master. Our leader is the Lord Jesus Christ; let us walk worthy of Him. Love is the precious bond of discipleship. It is the fruit of the Spirit; it is not of ourselves, and is only maintained as individuals and churches rest in Christ. Its absence brings most painful distrust and jealousy. Suspicious and harsh judging destroy the Church. Put the best construction on all that a brother says or does, and go to him for explanations before speaking to others unfavorably. May the Lord preserve and keep his Church from dissension and disaster, in the unity of the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

The names of the Representatives were called as at the beginning all were present except two friends. With thanksgiving and praise in our hearts, and upon our lips for the blessing which has crowned our meeting, and many earnest desires that we may separate to our homes and to our different fields of service with hearts and lives more fully consecrated to the Lord, the meeting concluded to meet at the same time next year.
