

we are a corporate body, and as such we have much more than a merely personal influence. There is a need amongst us for more leaders, trained by God himself, and as in the days of Moses, when the care of the people was too heavy for him, God appointed seventy Elders to share the burden with him, so today, will God give us leaders if we seek them prayerfully from him.

Do not let any of us be regarding ourselves in any way as finished products. God is infinite & our powers of comprehending Him and of receiving His grace are capable of infinite expansion.

We rejoice that those upon whom the burden of the work is now falling are under God's preparing hand: and that He can bestow grace sufficient for their needs. He is teaching & leading them & we greatly desire their help and encouragement.

May we none of us look only upon our own things or indeed upon ourselves at all, but seek everyone to look with sympathy and loving interest upon the things of others. In the desert where men seek vainly to fertilize the shifting sands, they find that where an outstanding rock gives stay & support to the soil the life giving water can quickly do its work and the desert will blossom as the rose.

So let us seek to become in God's hand, that through our steadfast characters the shifting experiences of others may be stayed and made fruitful.

It may well be that some of those upon whom the burden of the work is now devolving feel that under the pressure of modern business life they can scarcely find the time that is needed. Let us not forget that God has given us the blessing of Work not to overwhelm us, & that as we make our religion part of our everyday life, things will fall into their right places and the Lord's work will truly go forward.

In our organization the responsibility rest upon all the members of this
