Washington

From a postal from James E. Underhill we learn that Hannah W. Leggett of New Partners L. M. New York attended Washington meeting on First day (18th. 2nd. mo.). Chas. Hoyle of Ohio attended their social religious meeting on the 7th. 2nd. mo. Richard H. Thomas visited Washington on First day 4th. 3rd. mo. No notice had been given, and the attendance was sixteen. Friends there keep up the social religious meetings on 4th. day evenings at James E. Underhill's, which though small are described as being times of much interest. Isaac Sharp had also visited this meeting. A letter was read from William Foster Mitchell who feels sorrow to labor among the colored people in Washington.

Sandy Spring.

Jane E. White and Mary Snowden Thomas visited Sandy Spring from the 16th. to 19th. of 2nd. mo. A little meeting was held at the house of one of our members on 6th. day evening. Also a tea meeting at Ashbou meeting house on Seventh day evening, which was largely attended, and a time of much interest. They attended the regular Bible Class and meeting on First day morning. An appointed meeting was held that evening in Ashbou meeting house. George L. Scott, Mary Snowden Thomas and Anna B. Thomas went up to this neighborhood on the 24th. of 2nd. month. They held a series of ten meetings as follows; four public meetings at Hopewell; two at the Welltown church; four social meetings at private houses. George L. Scott also attended the regular First day evening meeting at a Methodist church in Winchester and had good service there. All the meetings were owned and blessed by the Lord, and we believe that friends and others were much helped and encouraged. They returned home on the 1st. of 3rd. month.
