

place, considerable progress²⁹ had been made by the Indians in building and cultivation, and as many of them had discovered a disposition for civilization this want is much to be regretted Situated as the Committee now find the Indians generally. Driven from their habitations, & their country desolate, they are not of the opinion that in the present state of the public mind, their labours can be of much avail, but the Committee are willing to hope, that by continuing patiently under the concern, the time may return, when they will be able to renew their efforts and perhaps more efficiently than heretofore

We have examined the treasurer's acct and find a balance in his hands of \$1972 $\frac{53}{100}$ exclusive of \$196 $\frac{68}{100}$ in the hands of the Committee west of the mountains and the principal of the donation from our brethren in Great Britain
