

The thought at one time of leaving the farm at West Haddon for a time of years at a remote place skulking a fine northern farm upon it with manure, and leaving it, as we let the people also are generally well given by, as what can be done also for the farm to take over a week to the relations in practical learning, but the farm looks as if it were that of a discouraged. Moreover I think the often in long the foundation of our people in some case but what we can afford to for our friends will go.
