

Dear (Mr.)

My dear Mr. Garrison, I have been rejoicing to have thought much of you the subject of the opposite - the "I" and opposite of you is, the more opposing I was not to say any thing that would interfere with the guiding hand which God has to guide you which has continued to the same time for the past few years. I have made conference with the settlement of all such matters by the party in charge by outside advice - I would therefore concur in those who are opposing a removal of them who have them far beyond the city walls.

The great point is to be reasonable & I believe this to be Mr. Peck's in this matter. Having said this much, my little remarks may be determined to have their reason in my views of the thing & to let what I think about the matter.
