

teacher for leave for. & establish a school: we will aid in the education of the three ^{on four} children mentioned, Hobson, Stagg & Allen.

I used the term "Friends' children", as thou dost, to mean the children of Friends; & that where there are six of them, whether of one family or more, the school may be sustained two months if it is under the control of Friends & thy supervision.

In aiding a school, we wish others to enjoy the benefit also, if no Friends' children are crowded out, & no additional expense incurred.

We expect to pay thy salary. As to securing free passes on the R.R. Daniel Worth can do more than Francis J. King.

Please inform us whether Woodland Academy is in a Friends' neighborhood & whether there is a meeting near it? Also, how many Friends' children would be likely to attend the school. $200. is too large a proportion for one school except under very promising circumstances.
