

55 N. Charles st.
Balt. 5th. 5. 1883.

J. J. Moore
Baltimore. A. C.

Dear friend

The letter from the & Wallis & Under has been received by J. J. King, & I write ^{at his request} ~~at his request~~ enclosing check for fifty dollars to pay for board station of Robt. J. Moore at Woodland & eastward.
This, as well as the former check, is from me Balt.
Care of Friends, of which J. J. King is Pres.

So there not some way that R. J. Moore could procure his studies at less than $100. a year? My friend

Yours & C. Thompson

55 N. Charles st.
Balt. 5th. 31. 1883.

Julia C. Kyle
Dear friend

Yours of 24th duly received. I sympathize with the in thy efforts to build a meeting house & hope it will not be too severe a tax on thy strength & resources.
Please let me know what you estimate the total cost will be.

I enclose check of J. J. King for $75.00 the balance of the $100. promised from the English Meeting house Fund.

I am not acquainted with the new society but should think it safer to put on shingles as your workmen are familiar with them in such a way.

They say they would do more work in a day than they could do in a week.
The also think it to your judgment. The also think they must be some danger, but have been assured by J. J. King that they were safe. I am sure they are safe.
My house with some more. My the company of J. J. King. My the company of J. J. King.

to can be made here of any desired shape & being hollow are better non-conductors of heat than solid bricks.
The will furnish them free.
The time of "tail" blocks referred to is for bridging.
The damaged plank for scaffolding in the attic as far as suitable & the damaged plank for scaffolding