Dear Sir

In answer to your of Nov 24. Addressed to Harriet in reference to Ins. on Meeting House well say there is one Ins. of ~~the~~ One Insurance Not on same This amount would only be a four one fourth it worth if Total destroyed by fire.
But it being a stone building of solid construction it is hardly probable with the water protection this some has. That it would be or could be damaged more than one thousand or fifteen hundred as it stands about 60 feet from any adjoining building
A waiting advice I am kind truly Yrs

To the Trustees of

Dear Friends:--

At a meeting of the Permanent Board of Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Friends, held 11th month 10th, 1905, the following minutes was adopted.

"The Committee on Piles to Meeting House Properties, was directed to make necessary inquiries as to existing insurance, and if in their judgment any such are not properly insured, they are to endeavor to have the same promptly attended to by the proper parties."

I would thank you to advise me regarding the amount of insurance on your Meeting House and whether in your judgment this is sufficient to restore the property in case of its destruction by fire.

On behalf of the Committee on Piles to Meeting House Properties.
