

of Friends, held as above.

Katharine M. Brevitt,

By reports from the Monthly Meetings, except Hopewell, we hear that in ~~four~~ Meetings the Young Peoples' Meetings are continued with life and interest, and seem to be a strong factor in growth and development in the Meetings. Four Meetings speak of their Bible School work, Eutaw St., Baltimore having had an average attendance of 75.7% the past quarter. This record gave the school a place on the list of "lanner" schools of the City. This school has also added a ~~Fathers'~~ ^{Handbook} Training Class.

Peew Creek entertained the ^{Handbook} County Sunday School Convention, this being the first time this convention was ever held in a Friend's Meeting House. An interesting and helpful program was rendered, assistance being given by two Friends from Baltimore.

Baltimore notes the successful use of the mite box plan in raising funds for Foreign Mission work; and the average attendance of 109 in 22 sessions of the Boys Meeting under auspices of Home Mission Committee.

Washington notes an increased attendance at First day morning meetings over same period last year. The social feature of this meeting attract a number who are not in membership with this Meeting. Many of these are Friends living in the City but holding their memberships elsewhere. How to induce them to join and assume a share in the responsibility of the Meeting is yet an unsolved problem.

A deep sense of loss is felt in the removal by death of Anna King Carey and John Nicholson, Elders of Baltimore Monthly Meeting and S. Thornton Nichols an Overseer and Clerk of Lincoln Monthly Meeting.

After reading the Queries and an impressive waiting in silence followed by vocal prayer The Meeting concluded.
