tion and temperance on most occasions,

We know of none of this description amongst us.

Friends maintain a faithful testimony against drinking, Ministry Oaths, Military services clandestine trade, Prize goods, and Lotteries,

Friends are careful to live within the bounds of their circumstances and to avoid involving themselves in business beyond their ability to manage, as far as is known they are just in their dealings, and mostly punctual in complying with their engagements,

Friends are careful to bear a testimony against slavery those of the African race under our direction are provided for and some attention is paid to instructing them in useful learning

Care is taken to deal with offenders as queried and to evince to those who will not be reclaimed the spirit of meekness and love before disowning them

None.

None.
