

To the next monthly meeting.

Conformable to the direction of last meeting we have had an interview with John Kellwell on account of his dealing in spirituous liquors.

He appeared to lament the circumstances that induced him to engage in a traffic to which Friends testimonies were opposed, and assured us of his sincere regard for the principles of Friends. But that such were his engagements and responsibilities connected with the trade that he could not, in his opinion, offer any encouragement of an immediate relinquishment of it.

Ennion Williams

Baltimore 5th mo 2^d. 1831

Daniel Coll