

Home Yearly Meeting

She visited at various times, in the service of the Gospel, North Carolina, New York, New England and Indiana Yearly Meetings, and in 1881 she and her husband spent the summer in Europe. They attended London Yearly Meeting and had frequently opportunities for service amongst friends and others. She was for years, ^{the} Clerk of Baltimore Quarterly Meeting (women) and afterwards for years the Clerk of Baltimore Yearly Meeting (women). Her sweet and clear voice, dignified and winning manner and good judgment eminently fitted her for these positions. In the autumn of last year she attended as a delegate, the Conference of Friends held at Richmond, Indiana and took an active part in the proceedings. Her service was however mostly in her own Yearly Meeting, and in Baltimore City and her voice was most often heard in her own Meeting. She entered warmly into the work for the Lord in the great City in which she lived and became a power - its President or member of a number of philanthropic associations of the women of Baltimore, she exercised a large personal influence over ladies of all classes, and her most thoughtful work, and earnest efforts was given to the Cause of Temperance, the rescue of the fallen and degraded. In this work her words of loving entreaty met the willingness for God in many a heart.

It is with thankfulness to the Lord that this Meeting records this testimony to the life of one of its members and to the results of her services for Christ. Many have accepted through her the message of pardon and peace in Him - Life, righteousness, power and victory in the Lord Jesus Christ were the key-words of her preaching. Her testimony was clear to the Lord as the Saviour from the burden of past sin, and as a present deliverer from its power; she loved to dwell upon the necessity of the Baptism of the Holy Ghost, upon the joy and victory of the resurrection life, and upon the ultimate triumph of the Kingdom of God. So far from feeling her service to be a burden she found such joy in it that she was accustomed to earnestly beg of the Lord for the right word to say the true message to deliver.
