A. K. Carey

Our dear friend, Annaking Carey, an Elder, having been taken from her service here since our last meeting, we place on record at this time an expression of our sense of the loss we have sustained, not only in the work of this meeting, but in the personal life of each member, to whom she had been helpful through her kindly and encouraging fellowship. Sinking very much from the burden of the Eldership, to which she had been but recently appointed, and prevented by illness from active service most of the time following, she had in quiet and thoughtful ministration been performing the actual duties of an Elder for a long time. Reports

The following reports of the condition of our meetings for the past quarter were adopted, to be forwarded to the Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight.

Tight St.

The attendance varies but little from month to month, the meeting on First-day morning being rather small, and the evening meeting larger. The spiritual condition of the meeting is in some ways encouraging in that some development of the usefulness of younger members can be recognized.

Eutaw St.

The most encouraging feature of the work of the meeting is the willingness of the younger members to take an active part in carrying it on. The ministry has been helpful, and the spiritual life of the meetings for worship to our Father that our lives have been enriched
