

I-2-1912

The meeting for business which was held there at one time was closed for reasons which seemed good at the time, but the result has been to leave the members of that congregation with no organization around which to rally, and no method of planning or carrying on systematic work. A committee of this body has considered the situation and consulted with friends of that congregation. They have devised a plan which they believe will secure the desired ends and the Monthly Meeting has been asked to arrange for the development of a congregational meeting to have the direction of the work of a religious character at Light St., the work to be reported through a committee of the Monthly Meeting as the social service work is now reported, although under the immediate direction of several sub-committees.

Our meetings for worship, both at Entaw Strand and Light St. have been about as large as usual at this season of the year, and while there have been no remarkable incidents we think they have been held in good life, and that the ministry has been helpful and timely.
