The Committee having the care of the First-day evening meetings reported. Meetings had been held during First-month - (9th, 16th, 23rd & 30th) with Elbert Russell as leader. On Second month 6th, Malcolm W. Davis, a correspondent of the New York Evening Post, stationed at Washington, D. C. spoke acceptably to the meeting. On Second month - 13th a severe storm caused the meeting to be postponed - a few friends did however brave the storm and held an excellent meeting.

Interdenominational
Bible Class

The Committee, John R. Cary Chairman, to arrange for the Interdenominational Bible Class for next year was not ready to report and asked to be continued.

The Committee, L. Oscar Moon Chairman, to arrange the lists for visits reported it had met and considered with care the subject given to it and concluded the making of lists was not advisable. The Committee asked to be continued in order the subject of visiting might be kept before this meeting. After discussion the report was accepted and the Committee discontinued.

A suggestion was made that those who felt a concern to do what might be termed religious visiting should send their names to the Recording Clerk; the subject was carefully considered and the suggestion adopted. Third-day evening 2nd Mo. 22nd was set for this special Committee to meet and arrange the lists. The recording Clerk was asked to communicate with the absent members of this Committee meeting that they might have the opportunity to volunteer for the special Committee.
