

teacher for these seven girls. Margaret, the oldest, and Richarda, were two of the seven. Lack of schools made some such plan necessary. My other Grandfather married late in life and his family was a younger group. Richarda named above, acted as a Governess in his family.

The Bettie named in Miss Rachel's letter, was a cousin of Mrs. Miles White who became her Companion and stayed in her home until her marriage to Mr. Howard in 1886 and my father's sister, Martha, became Mrs. White's Companion and remained with her until her death 1893. She is the Martha referred to in the letters and Miss Rachel must have known her as a little girl in my Grandfather's home. C.A.D. 1-25-63
