Sister E. B. Hopkins was well when I last heard from her. Her once upright form is now considerably bent, is 80 years old. -

She has survived brother Richard many years, and writes of being resigned to leave all things here below, when ever it is the will of the Lord to take her. -

9th It snowed last night. Thus covered, as well as the ground, melting & soon will be gone. - 11th I have a man making an under drain in the garden & yard, to the street. - There seems always something to be done while we sojourn here below.

But in the mansions above, all will be permanent, I imagine; no repairs needed. Or if they are needed, we shall not have to make them. I am trusting - and if I know myself, I can certainly trust my all in the hands of our Heavenly Father, for life, or death, glory, & honor, be to his name forever. - The snow

I wrote of on the 9th has melted away - leaving the atmosphere cold and chilly.
