My very dear Cousin } 9.8.1886. -

I cannot tell thee how troubled we all were, to find from a letter from my nephew Henry Janney, that thou had met with such a serious accident. -

It seemed so strange to pass through dangerous incident to travel, all safely - and receive such an injury in thy own, comfortable home. -

Dear Henry could not give us any definite information, not having heard himself the extent of the affliction. - I know my dear one, how patiently thou hast borne suffering long ago, and as thou wert schooled to endurance then, it will help thee now to bear thy pain so quietly, that thy recovery -
